Bugatti Memories recounts Gene Cesari's background and introduction to vintage automobiles in the early 1950s, his importing or brokering dozens of Bugattis and other distinguished marques primarily from Jean DeDobbeleer of Brussels, Belgium, during the following decade, and his subsequent activities. The times, the cars and individuals involved in his six decades of continuing interest are described. Included are over two hundred photographs sent in by DeDobbeleer, taken by the author, or supplied by others plus images of relevant documents. These were carefully selected from the author's archives by Charles Fawcett who designed the book's layout to supplement and enhance the text.
